

August 25, 1977

Systems Analyst Senior Programmer

[Experienced in PL/1]

£4,900 to £6,390 depending upon age, qualifications and experience

To form part of a project team working on a variety of batch and teleprocessing systems. Applicants must be able to demonstrate several years' experience in the design and implementation of such systems. Ability to communicate effectively with users at all levels is essential.

LOLA (London On-Line Local Authorities) provides computer facilities to a consortium of four London Boroughs. The Computer Centre is situated in modern offices at Enfield and current equipment is a 2-megabyte 370/158. On-line updating facilities are supported in over 100 remote VDU's with programmes written in PL / 1 running under IMS/VS by the end of the year.

Full details and applications form returnable by 19th September) from:

Mrs. B. Dorrington, LOLA, Tower Point North, Sydney Road, Enfield, Middx. Tel. 01-368 6611, ext. 276.

This is a recreated advert using text from archive.org. The archive has used OCR and some words were corrupted. These have been corrected after reference to the scanned image.

Note: the URL page contains content from multiple dates. When clicking on See other formats you then need to select August 25, 1977 from the left hand list to see the scanned image.